Once again, your MWGA is asking our members to rally and join us on Saturday, March 16, 2013 for our second St. Patrick’s Day Fundraiser to benefit our Girl’s Golf Program. Anyone who attended last year can testify to the fun and good food had by all.

This year, the event will be held at Pure Impact Golf Studio allowing us to enhance the activities to include numerous golf contests. No need to bring your clubs; clubs will be available. Besides, you’ll need your hands free to carry your favorite pot luck dish and libation. Of course, the popular euchre and bid whist tournaments will be in full force. - Grab your favorite card playing partner and sign up!

Along with all the activities, our members and guests will enjoy checking out the Pure Impact Golf Facilities. - A unique supermarket for golfers of all handicaps. This indoor golf arena is home to (1) a state of the art fitting center providing custom clubs, club fitting & repair, and video swing analysis with Chris Darakdjian (2) a golf retail area (3) individualize lessons with Bob Krause and (4) a strength and conditioning area dedicated to golf with Dave Davis. All the principals will be available for some Q&A. So, between all the festivities, allow time to peruse the facility.

So far, doesn’t everything sound like fun? You really have no excuse not to attend. In all seriousness, our Girl’s Golf Program cannot exist without your generosity. Do I sound like pledge week on NPR? In fact, it is the same. I am so proud of our membership and all the patrons who continue to support our program with their monetary contributions and their time contributions. Today’s youth is the future of amateur women’s golf and, with your contributions; the MWGA will make a difference.

Talking about contributions, do you or do you know of a resource that would be interested in donating a prize for our Chinese Auction? Or, a monetary contribution? If so, we would love to hear from you. Like they say, “it takes a village” and the MWGA is the village and the Girl’s Golf Program is our child. Consider your employer, your rich Uncle Bill, or that local eatery you patronage. – There are numerous venues to ask for a donated prize or monetary amount. As the MWGA is a 501(c) 3, the donation may be tax deductible and the MWGA will provide all necessary documentation.

In closing, I hope all of you are looking at their favorite “party foods” recipes; cleaning your crockpots, and calling your best card buddy in anticipation of this event. – You don’t have to be a golfer to enjoy our Pot Luck Party. In fact, rumor has it; many just came for the food. Hard to believe? Of course, the camaraderie can’t be beat! If you cannot attend, a donation will be greatly appreciated. For all updates and to sign up, www.mwgolf.org or, call me at 248-231-4221.

The Michigan Women’s Golf Association is organized . . . to foster amateur sports competitions . . . In particular to (1) educate amateur female golfers on the rules and values of the game of golf by conducting tournaments, educational clinics and other events for the benefit of its members and by actively supporting other events sponsored by organizations in which the Association is a member, such as the USGA and the GAM and (2) provide golf instruction and programming
In the depths of a Michigan winter, I like so many of our MWGA members, are contemplating the 2013 season. Will my game improve? Will I lower my handicap? Will my short game give me an advantage? So, there are those that take the pragmatic view and then there are those that take the “celestial” view. The pragmatic golfer looks at the statistics to create a scenario for the upcoming season. \( X + Y = Z \). And then there are those that look at the “heavens” for a glance of the future. Is one approach better than the other? Perhaps, a combination approach is the answer. Please, I am no way advocating astrology as the ultimate answer. – I just find it an interesting slant on this game we call golf. Perhaps, we could all use an “alternative explanation” as to why our game is what it is...yes, let’s blame the stars....

According to Michael Zullo’s book “Golf Astrology”, your date of birth may hold the key to a better understanding of your game. As golf becomes increasingly high tech, this philosophy might try to balance your game through the no-tech approach of astrology. Perhaps, it may help you discover your innate strengths, weaknesses, and instincts so you can become a better golfer. Hum....are you a believer? I would suspect that we all want to shave strokes from our game while getting more enjoyment out of game. Should we exploit our astrological signs? I say, way not? It’s better than blaming our own weaknesses! Please Turn to page 6 for Examples!

So, will you take a moment and examine you game under your sun sign? Or, maybe, re-evaluate your favorite playing partner according to their sign? Probably not; however, it may give you some interesting conversations on the course. We all know that good instruction and practice is the best medicine for an ailing game.

Talking about high tech, some good news has come out of Pennsylvania. – Punxsutawney Phil did not see his shadow so consequently we will have an early spring. – Perhaps not exactly an accurate scientific prediction to take to heart; but as good as most forecasts. The MWGA is looking forward to our season and the activities start in March with the Novi Golf Show. – March 1st,.3rd. Plan on visiting our booth or, better yet, volunteer your time to help man the both. Also, arrange your schedule so you can join us for our St. Patty’s Day Girl’s Golf Fundraiser on March 16th. This event should be a lot of fun and, of course, all proceeds go directly to the program. The MWGA cannot fund this program without your generous contributions. Please refer to additional articles and www.mwgolf.org for the latest information. Are you enjoying the newly designed website? The Board hopes this site will be an easy and effective tool for our members.

Well, I need to go out and shovel snow. See you on the links!
The MWGA Match Play League is open to MWGA members in good standing. Players are assigned to flights based on their USGA Handicap Index. Each member plays five matches within her flight and could advance on to the inter-flight playoffs and Championship matches. Matches are played one-on-one and hole-by-hole, with points awarded for holes won. Matches can be played at any time and at any course, but to help facilitate completion of the matches before the start of the playoff rounds, six weekend group play dates have been scheduled.

The cost to join the league is $50. Returning members should make their commitment to the league by March 15 by signing up online or contacting the coordinator. After that, the league will be open to new members. The league meeting is scheduled for Sunday, April 28 at Glen Oaks Golf Course. The rules, regulations and strategies of match play will be discussed. Tentative group play dates are published in this newsletter.

Important Dates:

March 15: Commitment deadline for returning 2012 members

March 16: Open enrollment for all MWGA members

April 28: League meeting, 10:00 at Glen Oaks

You are strongly urged to renew your league membership online but you do have the option of mailing your $50 league entry fee (make your check out to the MWGA) to:

We’ll all be rising bit earlier as the sun comes up sooner and the days get longer. We can all rise to the occasion of the great schedule MWGA has planned for you. The cut and dry version appears at the end of this article. I, for one, have been off the circuit, so to speak, far too long and am anxious to see my friends and participate in the greatest sport of all.

Salem Hills is again our choice for our Annual Meeting / Scramble for many reasons. The accommodations fit our needs, the course is not so intimidating that it makes you groan and the staff bends over backwards to grant our every request. And speaking of Grant – Jim Grant, the owner, is the greatest! Just take a few minutes to say “Hi” to him and you’ll see what I mean, if you don’t know already. He has supported every one of our efforts since day one. And it’s obvious that he loves and respects us.

Farmington Hills is a new venue and will host the 2 Person Four Ball. In 1999 they built a new nine holes, a beautiful new clubhouse and totally rebuilt and redesigned nine holes on the San Marino property. A tunnel was built under Halsted Road to link both nines. The classic clubhouse includes a full-service restaurant, pro shop, and a huge outdoor patio that provides great views of the gently rolling hills, pristine greens and giant pine trees featured on the course.

On Sat., June 8, Oak Pointe Golf Club will host our President’s Tournament on the 18-hole Championship Course located in Brighton, MI. It is a semi-private golf course that opened in 1918. Widely regarded for the Arthur Hills and Jerry Matthews-designed golf course, Oak Pointe Country Club has been one of the top private clubs in Livingston County for nearly two decades. The beautiful clubhouse offers wonderful dining, a fabulous design and breathtaking views.

So, I would say, it’s time for us to “shine” and hit the links in full force. I’m ready. How about you?

Sat. 05-04-2013 Salem Hills Golf Club Annual Meeting / Scramble

I DON’T FEAR DEATH, BUT I SURE DON’T LIKE THOSE THREE-FOOTERS FOR PAR. ~ CHI CHI RODRIGUEZ
Rules Rock-Dignity, Honor and Hope  By Sara Wold, Rules Director

It is important to know the definitions used in the Rules of Golf and this exercise is to help you use the definitions to solve rules questions. Please answer true or false and identify the definition where the answer can be found.

(1) A player can brush dew from his line of putt without penalty.
(2) There is never casual water within the margin of a water hazard.
(3) There is no penalty if a player’s ball is deflected by a fellow competitor’s golf bag.
(4) A player gets relief from a birdhouse that is out of bounds if it interferes with his backswing.
(5) Time spent in playing a wrong ball is not counted in the 5 minute period allowed for search.

“A women’s golf association and a teaching golf pro -- what better association to assist members in improving their game,” shared President Barbara Porter in announcing the new affiliation between the MWGA and Bob Krause.

Bob Krause spent nine years playing on numerous professional tours around the United States as well as participating in the PGA Tour Qualifying School. Because of his experience, he saw the need for world-class golf instruction in the Metro Detroit area so returned home to do just that. He affords the opportunity to experience the difference between taking a lesson and receiving customized golf instruction. Krause accomplishes this by offering instruction at Fieldstone Golf Course in Auburn Hills, Lyon Oaks Golf Course in South Lyon and at the all-weather Pure Impact Golf Studio in Commerce Township, where he can provides year-around instruction. “My goal is to promote a professional but fun atmosphere to teach and learn the game of golf. The best lesson you can receive is one that you can play with,” says Krause, so his motto at Bob Krause Golf is ‘Lessons you can play with!’

Krause is offering MWGA members discounts on lesson packages (6 lessons @ $350, 10 lessons @ $500). He will also discount on-course playing instruction upon request. These special rates are an excellent benefit for our members.

For additional information about Bob Krause Impact Golf, visit www.BobKrauseGolf.com. Krause may also be seen on Channel 4 ClickonDetroit.

MWGA is working to improve and update its communications with its members. You may have noticed the new email format. As the Communications Director, I knew I wanted to update the look and feel of our newsletters and emails to our membership but I’m technologically challenged. To the rescue came our new board member Bonnie Teegen and of course, Cynthia Pinkard, who is as I write this also working hard to improve the look and feel of MWGA’s web site. We hope you enjoy the new format –we’ll continue to improve and refine it as the year moves forward. And as summer approaches, we hope to keep you in the know in a timely fashion with event results coming to you shortly after the event concludes.

Let me know what you think of our efforts and what suggestion you may have to improve our communications with you! Contact me at friis@mwgolf.org

Dear Younger Me:

I can’t play golf anymore. I tried to swing the club the other day, but my body wouldn’t cooperate. The best I can do now is sometimes take walks on the course, but my eyes aren’t as good as they used to be so I don’t see much. I have a lot of time to sit and think now, and I often think about the game.

It was my favorite game. I played most of my adult life. Thousands of rounds, thousands of hours practicing. As I look back, I guess I had a pretty good time at it. But now that I can’t do it anymore, I wish I had done it differently.

It’s funny, but with all the time I spent playing golf, I never thought I was a real golfer. I never felt good enough to really belong out there. It doesn’t make much sense, since I scored better than average and a lot of people envied my game, but I always felt that if I was just a little better or a little more consistent, then I’d feel really good. I’d be satisfied with my game. But I never was. It was always “One of these days I’ll get it” or "One day I’ll get there" and now here I am. I can’t play anymore, and I never got there.

I met a whole lot of different people out on the course. That was one of the best things about the game. But aside from my regular partners and a few others, I don’t feel like I got to know many of those people very well. I know they didn’t really get to know me. At times they probably didn’t want to. I was pretty occupied with my own game most of the time and didn’t have much time for anyone else, especially if I wasn’t playing well.

So why am I writing you this letter anyway, just to complain? Not really. Like I said, my golfing experience wasn’t that bad. But it could have been so much better, and I see that so clearly now. I want to tell you, so you can learn from it. I don’t want you getting to my age and feeling the same regrets I’m feeling now.

I wish, I wish. Sad words, I suppose, but necessary. I wish I could have played the game with more joy, more freedom. I was always so concerned with “doing it right” that I never seemed to be able to enjoy just doing it at all. I was so hard on myself, never satisfied, always expecting more. Who was I trying to please? Certainly not myself, because I never did. If there were people whose opinions were important enough to justify all that self-criticism, I never met them.

I wish I could have been a better playing partner. I wasn’t a bad person to be with, really, but I wish I had been friendlier and gotten to know people better. I wish I could have laughed and joked more and given people more encouragement. I probably would have gotten more from... them, and I would have loved that. There were a few bad apples over the years, but most of the people I played with were friendly, polite, and sincere. They really just wanted to make friends and have a good time. I wish I could have made more friends and had a better time.

I’m inside a lot now and I miss the beauty of the outdoors. For years when I was golfing I walked through some of the most beautiful places on earth, and yet I don’t feel I really saw them. Beautiful landscapes, trees, flowers, animals, the sky, and the ocean - how could I have missed so much? What was I thinking of that was so important - my grip, my back swing, my stance? Sure, I needed to think about those sometimes, but so often as to be oblivious to so much beauty? And all the green - the wonderful, deep, lush color of green! My eyes are starting to fail. I wish I had used them better so I would have more vivid memories now.

So what is it that I’m trying to say? I played the type of game that I thought I should play, to please the type of people that I thought I should please. But it didn’t work. My game was mine to play, but I gave it away.

It’s a wonderful game. Please, don’t lose yours. Play a game that you want to play. Play a game that gives you joy and satisfaction and makes you a better person to your family and friends. Play with enthusiasm, play with freedom. Appreciate the beauty of nature and the people around you. Realize how lucky you are to be able to do it. All too soon your time will be up, and you won’t be able to play anymore. Play a game that enriches your life.

Best wishes . . . don’t waste a minute of golf . . . someday it will be gone.

Topping the Ball-Hints From the LPGA Web Site - by Karen Jansen LPGA Class A Teaching

If you top golf shots, most likely you are standing up as you strike the ball. Ideally, you want to maintain the same angle your torso and legs formed at the address position throughout your swing. Many high-handicappers stand up (straighten their legs or lift their torsos) as they strike the ball resulting in an array of bad shots including thin and topped shots, pulls and slices. If you take a look at professional golfers, you will see that they keep their spine angle throughout their swing and even many squat down as they strike the ball. If you tend to stand up during your swing, you will want test your squat. This test will help you measure the overall mobility in your legs, ankles, shoulders and spine. If you are unable to perform this test, it is likely that you will not able to maintain your spine angle throughout your downswing. The natural tendency is to thrust your hips toward the ball at the start of the downswing, thus pulling yourself up and out of the shot causing an array of errant shots and loss of power. Here is an excellent exercise to help you improve your squat so that you can maintain your spine angle throughout your swing.

Assisted Squat
1. Elevate your heels by standing on a box or board. Hold a light weight in your hands, with your arms extended about shoulder height
2. Squat down placing the weight on a box or elevated surface
3. Stand back up and then squat down and pick up weight
4. Repeat this exercise for 8 to 10 repetitions.

We are looking for members with fresh ideas to help make the MWGA an even better organization. Consider running for the Board of Directors. You can make a difference. Election is held in the fall. Contact Nominations Director, Mary Warnick @ (248)763-0714, or warnick@mwgolf.org for more information.
